No.F. 1-1/13-14/ATIC/Veterinary Digest

Dated the 26th June, 2013

Circular

The institute will be launching a new Biannual ATIC magazine "Veterinary Digest" this year in English Language. The magazine include popular/technical articles/case studies useful for the field veterinarians. It has been decided to publish the magazine in both versions i.e. print and electronic (pdf) wherein the print copies will be sent to all the Animal Husbandry Directorates of the country, while the softcopy will be uploaded in the institute website.

In this context, scientific and popular articles in the interest of field veterinarians on various aspects of livestock, pet and poultry are hereby invited from the scientists, researchers, technical officers, students and other interested veterinarians for the first issue of the "Veterinary Digest". Interested scientists can send the soft copy of the articles alongwith good quality photographs to Vetdigest@ivri.res.in latest by 15.07.2013. The articles should be preferably within 3-4 pages, in MS word format and 12 font size. The final decision to include the article in the magazine will be taken by the Editorial board.
