

Eastern Regional Station of ICAR-IVRI, Kolkata

organized Training programme on 'Fundamentals for Scientific Animal Rearing and Improvement of Livelihood' for farmers under Tribal Sub-Plan (TSP) on 26th March, 2019

A training programme on 'Fundamentals for Scientific Animal Rearing and Improvement of Livelihood' was organised at Nadia KVK, BCKV, W.B. in collaboration with Nadia Krishi Vigyan Kendra (KVK), Bidhan Chandra Krishi Viswavidyalaya, Gayeshpur, Nadia, West Bengal on 26th March, 2019. A total of 30 SC/ ST farmers from the village of Banamalipara and Mollabelia under Chakdah and Haringhata Block, Nadia, W.B. participated in the training.

Programme Co-ordinator of the KVK inaugurates and briefed the objective of the programme & their activities and services for the benefit of rural farmers. Dr. M.K. Kundu, Subject matter Specialists of KVK, Nadia discussed about area based scientific agricultural practices, constraints & solutions including the aspect of integrated farming.

Scientists from ICAR-IVRI, ERS (Drs D. Mondal; AK Das, P Dandapat, GK Das and SC Das) interacted with the farmers and delivered talk envisaging scientific approach of animal rearing including the necessity of routine deworming, vaccination, mineral supplementation, disease diagnosis, demand and supply of animal food consumption & sale of animal products/ by products for better health benefit and income generation, prevention and control of prevailing zoonotic diseases etc

Scientists of ICAR-IVRI, ERS, Kolkata interacting with farmers and delivering talks in training